[The defendants] had entered into a contract with [the plaintiff] regarding its management services, and the record reflects that... [the plaintiff] was neither a material nor a necessary party to the performance of [the defendants'] professional duties.... 43 Id. at 1130. 44 In this case, as in McCallum, the evidence indicates that the defendants were acting within the scope of their employment when they attempted to sell the property at issue here. The defendants were not in breach of their real estate brokerage contract with RSFS because they were acting in furtherance of their interest in marketing the property. The defendants' efforts to market the property were not in opposition to the Company's interest in selling the property and were, in fact, in furtherance of the Company's interests. Accordingly, the district court properly granted summary judgment for the defendants on this issue. 45 In summary, we affirm the grant of summary judgment as to the breach of contract claim for the defendants' failure to ensure that the Company received an outside appraisal of the property; as to the breach of contract claim for the defendants' failure to remit the rents collected from the Club to RSFS; and as to the breach of contract claim for the defendants' withholding of the rental revenue. We reverse the grant of summary judgment as to the breach of contract claim for failure to market the property. We have considered and rejected all other arguments made on appeal. 46 Affirmed in part, reversed in part. Cause remanded. *
